

▲ Spherical lantern

The Grand Mask Globe, £15,060, is impressive in scale at 1,107mm (43½in) tall and 935mm (37in) in diameter, as well as in its bronze finish, with cast brass masks to represent Neptune, the God of the Sea, from Jamb (020-7730 2122; www.jamb.co.uk)

▲ Targeted light

The Keats wall light in Bronze finish, £130, has a targeted light spill, which can be directed by movement of its two-point adjustable arm, from Neptune (01793 904011; www.neptune.com)

▼ Contemporary classic

Finished in hand-applied Antique Gesso, the St Ives table lamp, £720, is a modern take on an early Chinese vase, from Julian Chichester (020-7622 0928; www.julianchichester.com)

Hand finished

Known for elegant French antiques, Julia Boston also offers a selection of hand-made and hand-finished lighting, which can be wired for anywhere in the world. Shown here, the Horbury table lamp in Bronze, £1,140, with a Gathered Silk Cooile shade in Black, £306 (020-7610 6783; www.juliaboston.com)

◀ Stoneware jar

The Archaic Water Jar table lamp, £660, has a weathered elegance and handmade appeal, from Paolo Moschino (020-7730 8623; www.paolomoschino.com)

▲ Clear choice

The Invisible Lightswitch is a simple, transparent acrylic plate, which allows wallpaper or paint to show through, complete with brass toggle at its centre. It costs £54.56 from Forbes & Lomax (020-7736 0202; www.forbesandlomax.com) →